President Anderson Says It Marks a New Era of Peace for the Central American Republics-Ambassador Creel and Secretary Root Congratulate the Delegates

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.-The Central American Peace Conference, which has been n session in this city since the middle of November, was formally dissolved this afternoon. There were two sessions of the conference to-day, one in the morning devoted to signing the treaties which have been agreed upon by the delegates and the other in the afternoon, lasting only about half an

The final session began shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon and was presided over by Secretary Root, who convened the conference at the beginning of its deliberations about five weeks ago. After a short introduction by Secretary Root Dr. Louis Anderson, president of the conference and Minister of Foreign Affairs of Costa Rica, spoke in part as follows:

It cannot be said now, as it was said before, that all our treaties had been written in water, as we intend to show the world, and particu-larly the Government of the United States of America and the United Mexican States, that our purpose is steadfast, that our good faith has been pledged and that our names have been written on documents which are the foundation of a new era of peace, happiness and plenty of the Central American republics. All differences, all obstacles, all barriers to our happiness and prosperity have been wiped out and the new Central American brotherhood established upon a sound foun-

The thanks of the conference are due to the Presidents of our sister nations of the North, at whose friendly advice we have met. and special thanks should be given to the Hon. Robert Bacon, who was Assistant Secretary of State at the time of the signing of e treaty of Washington.

Our gratitude to the Honorable the Secretary of State Mr. Root and to his Excellency the Mexican Ambassador for their untiring efforts on behalf of Central American peace will last as long as our respective countries

Ambassador Creel followed Dr. Anderson in a short address, in which he said that the conference marked two important epochs in the world's history. For the Central American Republics it was the beginning of an era of justice and of peace, and as far as the whole world was concerned it marked the establishment of an international court which brought hope for universal peace. Its success, he added, must be interesting to all the nations of the globe. The Ambassador then read a message, in which President Diaz of Mexico expressed great pleasure over the information that the work of the conference had been successful. Ambassador Creel sented the congratulations of President Diaz to the President of the United States and to Secretary Root for their "noble and altruistic cooperation."

Mr. Root spoke extemporaneously. He

I beg you, gentlemen, to accept my hearty and sincere congratulations. The people of Central America, withdrawn to a great distance from the scene of your labors, may not know, but I wish that my voice might reach each one of them to tell them that during the month that has passed their loyal representatives have been doing for them in sincerity and in the discharge of patriotic duty a service which stands upon the highest level of the achievements of the most advanced modern civilization. You have each one of you been faithful to the protection of the interests of your several countries; you have each one of you exhibited patience, kindly consideration, regard for the rights and feelings of others and a willingness to meet with open mind the opinions and wishes of your fellow country-men. You have pursued the true method by which law, order, peace and justice are sub-stituted for the unrestrained dominion of the strong over the weak, and you have reached sions which I believe are wise and are well adapted to advance the progress of each Central American republic toward that much to be desired consumma tion in the future of one great, strong and happy Central American Republic

May the poor husbandman who cultivates the fields of your five republics, may the miner who is wearing out his weary life in the hard labors of your mines, may the mothers who are caring for the infant children that are to make the peoples of Central America in the future, may the millions whose prosperity and happiness you have sought to advance here, may the unborn generations of the future in your beloved countries have reason to look back to this day with bless-ings upon the self-devotion and self-restraint with which you have endeavored to serve their interests and to secure their prosperity and peace. With this hope the entire body of my countrymen will join; and with the expression of this hope I declare the peace conference of the Republics of Central America, convened in the city of Washington in this year 1907, to be now adjourned.

The work of the conference was com-pleted this morning with the signing of eight treaties, all of which will have to be sub-mitted to the respective governments for final ratification. These treaties provide for general peace and amity between the republics, the creation of a high court of justice in Central America, uniform extralition laws, an annual conference for uni formity in monetary systems tariffs, weights and measures; the establishment of better means of communication and transbetter means of communication and transportation, the establishment of a pedagogic institute in Costa Rica and the establishment of a Central American bureau similar in its functions to the Bureau of American Republics in this city. The conference also recommended that Honduras be declared neutral ground; that no President of any Central American repulsic be reelected, and that amnesty be granted to all political prisoners.

Dr. Anderson, the president of the con-ference, sent the following despatch to the Presidents of all the republics participating in the conference:

The Central American Peace Conference in terminating its labors to-day has agreed by acclamation to recommend to the gov-ernments of Central America that they grant full amnesty for political crimes and those

In communicating to your Excellency this generous exhortation we rely upon your high sentiments in entertaining the hope that our work will be crowned by a measure that will be a token of reconciliation and fraternity and a happy beginning of an era of accord for our Central American family.

AMBASSADOR REID RETURNS On the Mauretania, Which Had a Rough Voyage.

The biggest ship in the world, the Mauretania, of the Cunard Line, in yesterday, found one of the biggest seas in the world lying in wait for her in midocean on Tuesday and could not dodge it. The crest of it leaped over the weather bow and lifted three lifeboats from their chocks. slightly damaging one. The gale that piled up the waves was succeeded by another, estimated to have had force of more than one hundred miles, that laid them low for a while. The barometer went down to 28.50 and the speed of the ship, headed against the blast, was reduced to less than haif. At times she made practically no headway. Naturally, she didn't break any records, although she averaged 23 knots an hour. She brought 3,017 sacks of first class mail, 149 sacks of parcels post packages and $4,00,000 in gold.

Among the Mauretania's passengers were Mr. Whitelaw Reid, American Am-bassador to Great Britain, and his family; bassador to Great Britain, and his family; Simon Lake, the submarine boat builder; Mrs. A. J. Drexel, Ogden Bishop, J. Sergeant Cram. Mr. and Mrs. Noel Bardac, Mrs. J. Ridgely Carter, Eustace Fiennes, M. P.; F. C. Havemeyer, Lyman Melvin Jones, Lady Duff Gordon, Capt. B. M. Rhodes, Lieut.-Col. Frederick H. Ward and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Whitney. Ambassador Reid said he was here on a sixty days leave of absence, dating from January 1; that he would go to Albany to-day to attend a meeting of the Board of Regents, of which he is a member, and that he would call on the President in about a week.

Mr. Lake said he was building four 500 ton submarine boats for Russia with a speed on the surface of 15 knots and a speed below the surface of 8 knots. He said they were much ahead of the ordinary submarines, being capable of firing at quick intervals six of their twelve torpedoes just like rapid fire battaria of battlashine. just like rapid fire batteries of battleships
